ABSTRACT

This patent pertains to starch coatings containing starch succinates for reduced fat fried foods with acceptable taste, texture and appearance. The starches of this invention are applied to the food substrate before frying and act as a barrier to the absorption of the frying media (oil).

10